POLITICS ROW
OVER JAPANESE
CONTROL SEENRussian, British Advisors
Protest Food Shipments to Japs

BY GRAHAM HOVEY

WASHINGTON, April 19.—A first-class political row appears today to be shaping up between Gen. Douglas MacArthur's command and the two inter Allied agencies dealing with Japanese policy and administration.

In Washington, a committee of the Far Eastern commission, 11 nation policy-making agency, scheduled a meeting to discuss the recent United States decision to send more than half a million tons of food to Japan during the first six months of this year.

And in Tokyo, the four-nation advisory council, whose Russian and British members have voiced objections to certain tactics of MacArthur and some of his officers adjourned until April 30 without agreeing whether MacArthur should present requested information in writing or by sending a spokesman to deliver it orally.

MacArthur's Request

When New Zealand, Indian and Philippine members of the Far Eastern commission expressed some concern at a meeting yesterday over American intentions—at MacArthur's request—to send food to Japan, it marked the second time that body had questioned policies of the supreme commander.

Previously, the commission expressed "apprehension" over the plan to hold Japanese national elections April 10, and asked MacArthur if he would consider postponing them.

To date the commission's questioning has been couched in the most polite terms and members have bent over backward to emphasize that their concern over Japanese issues did not imply criticism of MacArthur.

Originally, the senate voted $375,000,000 for a five-year program. The house approved $650,000,000 for a 12-year period.

The senate measure required each participating state to set up an airport agency to pass on all projects and to handle federal funds. The house approved a provision letting the cities come directly to Washington.

"With 4,000 cities coming in here, the big ones would push the little ones clear out of the trough," the Maine senator told reporters.

The compromise bill, already approved by the house, provides $500,000,000 of federal money, to be matched by state funds, over the next seven years.

Cities Plan Retained

When a senate-house committee worked out the seven-year measure as a compromise, it retained the house provision regarding cities.

The original senate measure provides for allocation of federal funds under a formula taking into consideration both the population and area of a state. For Class 3 airports, the federal government would bear 50 per cent of the cost.

For Class 4 and larger, the federal share would be set by the Civil Aeronautics Administrator, with 50 per cent as the maximum. Class 4 and 5 airports are the largest types in the C. A. A. terminology.

First appropriations under the measure would become available July 1, the beginning of the fiscal year.

CITY NURSE EXAMS
SCHEDULED MAY 6

Civil service examinations for the position of Salem city health nurse will be held at city hall at 7:30 p.m. Monday, May 6, the commission announced today.

Applicants for the position must have been Salem residents for at least a year prior to the examination. The job pays $180 a month, with a $25-a-month allowance for car expenses.

Applications must be filed by Friday, May 3, with Roy Harris, commission secretary.

The position was made vacant recently by the resignation of Miss Frances Markovich.

1,900 Germans
Poisoned In POW Camp

(By Associated Press)

FRANKFURT, April 19.—A mysterious arsenic poisoning has struck down 1,900 German prisoners of war in an American internment camp near Nuernberg during the last 24 hours, U.S. Army headquarters announced.

All the victims are "seriously ill," headquarters said. No deaths were reported.

The prisoners were seized with arsenic poisoning in Stalag 13 near Nuernberg, the announcement said.

Early reports from the camp showed that bread containing arsenic had been found and was believed to be the cause.

Headquarters said the bread for the prisoners, "in accordance with normal procedures," had been secured from a local German bakery by contract.

AUSTRALIA'S PLAN GAINING
UNO SUPPORTIran Case Still To Be Disposed Of; Council Reconvenes Tuesday

By MAX HARRELSON

NEW YORK, April 19.—A compromise proposal by Australia gained support among delegates of the United Nations Security Council today as a possible solution to the controversial Spanish question.

The proposal, submitted by Australian Delegate W. R. Hodges shortly before the council adjourned yesterday for the Easter holidays, calls for the appointment of a five-man sub-committee which would investigate the Spanish situation and report back by May 17.

Most of the delegates generally expressed interest in the Australian suggestion and it was conceded by some to have a good chance of being approved.

Iran Not Disposed Of

Before the council resumes its discussions of the Spanish question, it will tackle again the Iranian case, which was interrupted Tuesday after Secretary General Trygve Lie submitted a surprise opinion that there was some doubt as to whether the Iranian case legally could be kept on the agenda.

This will be the first time on the council's calendar when it re-convenes at 3 p.m. Tuesday.

The way was opened for a new floor fight on the Iranian question when the council's committee of experts on rules and procedure reported last night it had split, 8 to 3, with the majority holding the council had full authority to keep a case on the agenda as long as it thought necessary.

The council was expected to accept the opinion of the majority and then vote to keep the question on the agenda until May 6, the date on which the Russians have promised to have all Red Army troops out of Iran.

Two Days Of Debate

The three members of the committee of experts voting in the minority were the representatives of Russia, France and Poland, the three powers which had favored dropping the Iranian case.

The council was expected to come back to the Spanish case by Wednesday or Thursday at the latest.

During two days of debate, all the delegates except Dr. Hafez Alifi Pasha, representative of Egypt, have spoken and only four have lined up for the Polish resolution.

The line-up was Russia, France, Poland and Mexico for the resolution and Great Britain, Brazil and the Netherlands against it.

Research Bureau Reports
On Employment, Payrolls

COLUMBUS, April 19.—Ohio State University's Bureau of Business Research today reported a decline of less than one per cent in manufacturing employment and an increase of one per cent in payrolls in Ohio for January, 1946, over the previous month.

Compared to January, 1945, however, employment was down 12 per cent and payrolls down 23 per cent.

All chief cities had manufacturing employment gains from December to January, including Canton.

Payroll gains included Canton three per cent.

The report covered 7,487 Ohio concerns.

New Car Is Stolen

State highway patrolmen and sheriff's deputies searched today for a new Ford two-door sedan stolen between 8:30 and 9:30 p.m. yesterday from near the Loudon garage, Hanoverton.

The car was believed to have been taken after theives abandoned another Ford sedan, bearing Nebraska license plates, in Hanoverton.

OPA May Get Better
Treatment In SenateCourt Rejects Re-Trial Motion of Mother Who

WASHINGTON, April 19.—Administration chiefs expressed confidence today the senate would treat OPA far more gently than the house did, but trouble was stacking up for them just the same.

Their guarded optimism was tempered by the fact that even if the senate rolls up a thumping majority for continued price control without major changes, its decision will have to be compromised with the contrary action of the house on many key provisions.

OPA Chief Paul Porter claims

the bill the house passed yesterday will require the elimination immediately after July 1 of price ceilings on at least 50 per cent of all commodities which make up the cost of living.

OTHER Probables

On this list the price chief placed such foods as meat, milky and all other dairy products, except butter.

High on it too were coal, shoes, ravon and woolen textiles and many clothing items made from these fabrics.

Porter, in a statement last night,

said the house bill would "blow sky-high" the ceilings on automobiles, radios, refrigerators and most household appliances.

Keynote of the administration's cautious optimism in the midst of these inflation predictions was sounded by Chairman Wagner (D-N.Y.) of the senate banking committee.

"I am sure," Wagner told reporters, "that my committee will come out with a very sensible bill. I think the senate will be reflective, thoughtful of the consequences."

Wagner's committee is considering a bill which it stands would extend price controls a year beyond

June 30 without change.

This contrasts with the house action to the house bill until the subsidy was knocked out, said the recess may change the house attitude.

"States' Rights" Cry Heard In Vast Airport Program

WASHINGTON, April 19.—With a cry of "States' rights," Senator Brewster (R-Maine) called on his colleagues today to reject the latest version of a multi-million dollar airport building program.

POLITICS ROW OVER JAPANESE CONTROL SEEN

Russian, British Advisors
Protest Food Ship-

BY GRAHAM HOVEY

WASHINGTON, April 19.—A first-class political row appears today to be shaping up between Gen. Douglas MacArthur's command and the two inter-Allied agencies dealing with Japanese policy and administration.

In Washington, a committee of the Far Eastern commission, 11-nation policy-making agency, scheduled a meeting to discuss the recent United States decision to send more than half a million tons of food to Japan during the first six months of this year.

Program Planned By Haviland Choir

The Haviland choir of the First Presbyterian church, under the direction of W. W. Albaugh, will present a cantata, "Easter Night," at Easter services Sunday morning in the church.

The program will feature solo by Thelma Talbot, Alberta Herron and Doris Stiver; sopranos; Ora Vincent and Marie Callahan, altos; John Paul Allman, tenor; Daniel Holloway, baritone; and Joseph Anton, bass.

First appropriations under the measure would become available July 1, the beginning of the fiscal year.

Alspach directs the choir with the assistance of Holloway. Miss Anna Cook is the accompanist.

The cantata program follows:

PART I
The Passion

"There is a green hill far away," chorus; "When the morning was come," alto solo; "And Pilate asked them," baritone solo; "We found this man perverting the nation," chorus; "Then Pilate called Jesus," baritone solo; "And they were instant with loud voices," chorus; "When Pilate saw," bass solo; "His blood be upon us," chorus; "The march to Calvary," organ solo; "Now from the sixth hour," bass solo; "O perfect life of love," chorus.

PART II
Easter

"As it began to dawn," alto solo; "And behold there came a great earthquake," chorus; "They have taken away my Lord," soprano solo; "Come unto Me," tenor solo; "My faith looks up to Thee," chorus; "The morning purples all the sky," soprano solo; "Now is come the salvation of our God," chorus.

Court Rejects Re-Trial Mo-

LISBON, April 19—Judge Joel H. Sharp today sentenced Mrs. Olive May Long, 23, of Wellsville, found guilty of first degree murder of her infant daughter, to life imprisonment in the Ohio Reformatory for Women at Marysville after turning down a plea for a new trial.

Their guarded optimism was tempered by the fact that even if the senate rolls up a thumping majority for continued price control without major changes, its decision will have to be compromised with the contrary action of the house on many key provisions.

Urge Addition To Memorial Building

A panel discussion of "Recreation in Salem" led by A. P. Morris, featured the Kiwanis club meeting yesterday noon in the Memorial building.

J. M. Kelley, manager of the Memorial building, pointed out to Kiwanians the inadequacy of recreational facilities in Salem and suggested a 50 by 85 feet addition to the Memorial building as a solution to many of the problems concerning recreation for the youth of the city.

Stressing the fact that the present high school gym is outmoded, Kelley told Kiwanians that since the gym was opened to the public more than 20 years ago, there have not been indoor recreational facilities sufficient to accommodate the 75 basketball teams entered in the various city leagues annually nor outdoor facilities adequate enough to handle the needs of 32 softball teams each year.

The proposed addition, Kelley said, would seat approximately 2,500 persons and enable Salem to attract many worthwhile events, thus making the building a real memorial to the city's 2,000 World War II veterans.

Exact cause of the blast—ostensibly from gas—was not given by mine officials but superintendent
Martin said a gas pocket probably was set off by an explosive charge.

Members of the rescue squad said all but one of the 12 men were killed instantly. The twelfth man, Paul
Price, died soon after reaching a hospital at nearby Radford.

Cloyd Martin, of Radford, general superintendent of the mine, said he was halfway between the entrance and the point of the explosion when it occurred. The force of the blast, he said, knocked him from the train of mine cars on which he was riding and blew the train about 150 feet back up the steep incline.

The car was believed to have escaped from the depths of the mine, in many instances having to fight their way through choking fumes and smoke before reaching the mine entrance.

All chief cities had manufacturing employment gains from December to January, including Canton one per cent.

Payroll gains included Canton three per cent.

The report covered 7,487 Ohio concerns.

Special Interests

In the counter-accusations made against critics of the OPA by its staunch defenders, equipped with the sounding boards of Washington to spread the government gospel, there is a great deal of double-talk about special interests.

The obvious purpose is to make it appear that OPA is being attacked by special interests. Thus, the National Association of Manufacturers, which has been vigorous in its criticism, is a special interest. Dairymen are another special interest. So also are textile manufacturers, retail merchants, real estate operators—anyone with a word to say in behalf of what he happens to be doing and knows something about.

But . . . nothing is heard about special interests behind OPA, and there are some. Among them are OPA employees, standing guard over their jobs like so many mother wolves with pups. And New Dealers who have been talking for more than a decade about economic planning and itching to get their fingers on the throat of private enterprise. And the strange bedfellows of the so-called Democratic party, the P.A.C., which has some fruity ideas of its own about how to run the United States.

Special interests? As Jimmy Durante would say, "We got a million of 'em!" Everything in the United States can be broken down into some kind of a special interest. That's how the country is organized. And each interest has as good a right as any other to speak its piece. The right of petition and the privilege of debate haven't been monopolized by the special interests backing up OPA for 10 times what it's worth yet.

Momentous Discrepancies

Two momentous discrepancies have appeared in events that have made major news in the United States since the end of the war. They are the source of deep misgivings.

These discrepancies lie between what masses of people want and what their leadership is giving them. One has occurred in international security, the other in reconversion to peace in the United States.

The people wanted a new concept of international security that would protect them against the repetition of futile and disastrous wars. The people wanted peace. Their leaders, so far, have shown they are not prepared to implement this popular want. The leaders, who are being measured day by day in the debate of United Nations security council and in their actions, are not giving the people a new concept of international security. They are giving them dreary repetition of the bickering over the narrow issues of nationalism that have produced two world wars since 1914 and may produce a third before the century is half over. The leaders are arguing like trial lawyers matching wits, not like statesmen preserving the rights of human being. There is a breakdown in international leadership. The leaders have fallen behind their followers.

Reconversion to peace in the United States, according to the hope that had taken form in the popular mind, was to have been an orderly transition from war production to peacetime production, with a minimum of the chaos and instability which everyone realized could spoil military victory. This hope was denied abruptly, almost savagely, by a coterie of powerful individuals who decided arbitrarily to launch a movement of inflation which would wipe out the security and savings of millions of citizens. Reconversion was turned into a greedy scramble for temporary advantage. Stability became a vain hope.

If political leaders have occasion to wonder why the people are not hanging on their words, they should take stock of what these two momentous discrepancies have done to public morale since the end of the war last summer.

Americana

Delegates to the UNO Security Council meeting in New York had their knowledge of American folkways increased when, on opening day, they were introduced to our quaint custom of feather-bedding.

This practice, in case anyone doesn't recall it, is not to be confused with bedding. It consists of paying a union member for standing around and doing nothing while a member of another union (or of no union) gets paid for doing the job that the idle union member is paid for not doing.

Sometimes the practice is varied by having the union member paid for not doing a job that nobody else is doing, as when theater orchestra musicians draw pay for not performing at a play which doesn't use any music before or after, or during the intermission. Fortunately, the UNO delegates escaped this variation. That is just as well, for they must have been sufficiently confused by their own simple problem.

This problem involved a jurisdictional dispute among several AFL unions, including the electrical workers and the movie, radio, and television operators, over who should run the television broadcasts. This was the 50th jurisdictional dispute at the temporary UNO headquarters during the two weeks it took to transform the Hunter College gym into an arena of international discussion. All the others were settled before the delegates were seated.

It looked for a time as if the 50th dispute might leap the bounds of television and tie up other and more usual communications. For there was some talk of the electricians' taking over all electrical equipment unless their boys got to operate the television, or at least got paid for it. This would have made radio broadcasts of the sessions impossible.

So the feather-bedding was agreed on. The television operators did the job, and an equal number of union electricians drew an equal amount of pay. Word got around that some of the more thrifty UNO officials didn't like the idea. They seemed to take the attitude that some of the 51 nations footing the bill for this meeting and other UNO activities might object to picking up the tab on this double-or-nothing basis.

We can excuse their attitude, on the grounds that many of the delegates are newcomers to our shores and residents of countries where money isn't as plentiful as it is here, where life is harder and the living standard is lower.

But if the United Nations Organization is going to live here permanently, the members will just have to get used to and accept our customs.

Haven't they ever heard of James Caesar Petrillo, that stalwart champion of feather-bedding? Why, gentlemen, Mr. Petrillo is almost as much of an American institution as is the hot dog or the atomic bomb. He has led one army of standins after another, and, thanks to the laws of our land up to the present, has never known defeat.

Where James Caesar has led, other lesser commanders have followed, until now feather-bedding is an accepted and legitimate chapter of Americana. So don't go trying to change our quaint customs, gentlemen. Just pay up.

Sometimes the practice is varied by having the union member paid for not doing a job that nobody else is doing, as when theater orchestra musicians draw pay for not performing at a play which doesn't use any music before or after, or during the intermission. Fortunately, the UNO delegates escaped this variation. That is just as well, for they must have been sufficiently confused by their own simple problem.

This problem involved a jurisdictional dispute among several AFL unions, including the electrical workers and the movie, radio, and television operators, over who should run the television broadcasts. This was the 50th jurisdictional dispute at the temporary UNO headquarters during the two weeks it took to transform the Hunter College gym into an arena of international discussion. All the others were settled before the delegates were seated.

The Symptoms of Colitis

By HERMAN N. BUNDESEN, M.D.

CRAMPING pains in the abdomen plus diarrhea, plus loss of weight, plus fever, often add up to regional colitis.

Such symptoms, when they occur together, should be enough to send the man or woman who experiences them to the doctor for a thorough examination.

X-Ray Diagnosis
The diagnosis of regional colitis is made by X-ray. The outlines of the bowel seem fuzzy and distorted in the X-ray plate, instead of smooth, as they are under normal conditions. Mucous colitis is diagnosed by the symptoms, and the presence of mucus in the stools.

Persons who suffer from cramping pain in the abdomen, diarrhea and other symptoms suggestive of regional colitis should have a careful study made by the doctor, including X-rays of the bowel so that an accurate diagnosis may be made.

Pain In Abdomen

In this ailment, there is little inflammation of the bowel though there are such symptoms as diarrhea alternating with constipation, and some pain in the abdomen.

Regional colitis, however, is a different story. Here there is a great deal of inflammation in various parts of the large intestine and ulcers may form in the bowel.

Diarrhea is present, but rarely severe. Now and then, blood may be found in the stool. Cramping may be extreme. There are fever and loss of weight. Lessening of the coloring matter in the blood, or anemia, may be so marked that it becomes necessary to give injections of whole blood by vein.

This condition may start in any part of the large bowel and then pass upwards or downwards, though the rectum, or large part of the bowel, is never involved. The condition affects the right half of the bowel more often than the left.

Operation Best

According to Dr. Jorge de Castro, Mayo Clinic, and his associates of the Mayo Clinic, the best treatment for regional colitis is an operation and removal of the part of the bowel which is affected.

However, before this operation is carried out the patient should be kept at rest and given a diet low in bulky material or roughage, with vitamin preparations, and with plenty of proteins such as meat, milk and eggs.

If there is an acute infection present in the bowel which is causing fever, one of the sulfonamide drugs such as sulfaguanidine or succinyl sulfathiazole should be administered. This treatment may come into general use.

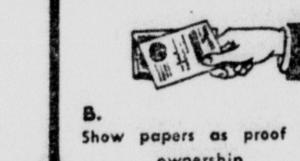

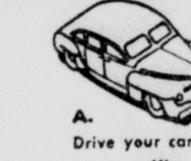

Why World Needs U. S. Food

Newschart above, prepared from government figures, shows the shortages in basic foods that threaten millions of people throughout the world with starvation. To help relieve this situation, the U. S. plans to export 35,000,000 bushels of wheat per month during the first half of 1946.

Special Interests

In the counter-accusations made against critics of the OPA by its staunch defenders, equipped with the sounding boards of Washington to spread the government gospel, there is a great deal of double-talk about special interests.

The obvious purpose is to make it appear that OPA is being attacked by special interests. Thus, the National Association of Manufacturers, which has been vigorous in its criticism, is a special interest. Dairymen are another special interest. So also are textile manufacturers, retail merchants, real estate operators—anyone with a word to say in behalf of what he happens to be doing and knows something about.

But . . . nothing is heard about special interests behind OPA, and there are some. Among them are OPA employees, standing guard over their jobs like so many mother wolves with pups. And New Dealers who have been talking for more than a decade about economic planning and itching to get their fingers on the throat of private enterprise. And the strange bedfellows of the so-called Democratic party, the PAC, which has some fruity ideas of its own about how to run the United States.

Special interests? As Jimmy Durante would say, "We gpt a million of 'em!" Everything in the United States can be broken down into some kind of a special interest. That's how the country is organized. And each interest has as good a right as any other to speak its piece. The right of petition and the privilege of debate haven't been monopolized by the special interests backing up OPA for 10 times what it's worth yet.

Momentum Discrepancies

Two momentous discrepancies have appeared in events that have made major news in the United States since the end of the war. They are the source of deep misgivings.

These discrepancies lie between what masses of people want and what their leadership is giving them. One has occurred in international security, the other in reversion to peace in the United States.

The people wanted a new concept of international security that would protect them against the repetition of futile and disastrous wars. The people wanted peace. Their leaders, so far, have shown they are not prepared to implement this popular want. The leaders who are being measured day by day in the debate of United Nations security council and in their actions, are not giving the people a new concept of international security. They are giving them a dreary repetition of the bickering over the narrow issues of nationalism that have produced two world wars since 1914 and may produce a third before the century is half over. The leaders are arguing like trial lawyers matching wits, not like statesmen preserving the rights of human beings. There is a breakdown in international leadership. The leaders have fallen behind their followers.

Reconversion to peace in the United States, according to the hope that had taken form in the popular mind, was to have been an orderly transition from war production to peacetime production, with a minimum of the chaos and instability which everyone realized could spoil military victory. This hope was denied abruptly, almost savagely, by a coterie of powerful individuals who decided arbitrarily to launch a movement of inflation which would wipe out the security and savings of millions of citizens. Reconversion was turned into a greedy scramble for temporary advantage. Stability became a vain hope.

If political leaders have occasion to wonder why the people are not hanging on their words, they should take stock of what these two momentous discrepancies have done to public morale since the end of the war last summer.

Americana

Delegates to the UNO Security Council meeting in New York had their knowledge of American folks, ways increased when, on opening day, they were introduced to our quaint custom of feather-bedding.

This practice, in case anyone doesn't recall it, is not to be confused with bedding. It consists of paying a union member for standing around and doing nothing while a member of another union (or of no union) gets paid for doing the job that the idle union member is paid for not doing.

Sometimes the practice is varied by having the union member paid for not doing a job that nobody else is doing, as when theater orchestra musicians draw pay for not performing at a play which doesn't use any music before or after, or during the intermission. Fortunately, the UNO delegates escaped this variation. That is just as well, for they must have been sufficiently confused by their own simple problem.

This problem involved a jurisdictional dispute among several AFL unions, including the electrical workers and the movie, radio, and television operators, over who should run the television broadcasts. This was the 50th jurisdictional dispute at the temporary UNO headquarters during the two weeks it took to transform the Hunter College gym into an arena of international discussion. All the others were settled before the delegates were seated.

It looked for a time as if the 50th dispute might leap the bounds of television and tie up other and more usual communications. For there was some talk of the electricians taking out all electrical equipment unless their boys got to operate the television, or at least got paid for it. This would have made radio broadcasts of the sessions impossible.

So the feather-bedding was agreed on. The television operators did the job, and an equal number of union electricians drew an equal amount of pay. Word got around that some of the more thrifty UNO officials didn't like the idea. They seemed to take the attitude that some of the 51 nations footing the bill for this meeting and other UNO activities might object to picking up the tab on this double-or-nothing basis.

We can excuse their attitude, on the grounds that many of the delegates are newcomers to our shores and residents of countries where money isn't as plentiful as it is here, where life is harder and the living standard is lower.

But if the United Nations Organization is going to live here permanently, the members will just have to get used to and accept our customs.

Haven't they ever heard of James Caesar Petrillo, that stalwart champion of feather-bedding? Why, gentlemen, Mr. Petrillo is almost as much of an American institution as is the hot dog or the atomic bomb. He has led one army of standins after another, and, thanks to the laws of our land up to the present, has never known defeat.

Where James Caesar has led, other lesser commanders have followed, until now feather-bedding is an accepted and legitimate chapter of Americana. So don't go trying to change our quaint customs, gentlemen. Just pay up.

CRAMPING pains in the abdomen, plus diarrhea, plus loss of weight, plus fever, often add up to regional colitis.

Such symptoms, when they occur together, should be enough to send the man or woman who experiences them to the doctor for a thorough examination.

Any inflammation of the large intestine is known as colitis, but there are a number of different types of this disorder and one may be more serious than another. For example, one sort, chiefly affecting nervous people, is called mucous colitis.

Pain In Abdomen

In this ailment, there is little inflammation of the bowel though there are such symptoms as diarrhea alternating with constipation, and some pain in the abdomen.

Regional colitis, however, is a great deal of inflammation in various parts of the large intestine and ulcers may form in the bowel.

Diarrhea is present, but rarely severe. Now and then, blood may be found in the stool. Cramps may be extreme. There are fever and loss of weight. Lessening of the coloring matter in the blood, or anemia, may be so marked that it becomes necessary to give injections of whole blood by vein.

If there is an acute infection present in the bowel which is causing fever, one of the sulphonamide drugs such as sulfaguanidine or succinyl sulfathiazole should be administered. This treatment may be effective in stopping the diarrhea.

Letters to Dr. Bundesen should be addressed in care of 235 E. 45th st., New York City.

Jackson-Smith Vows Heard At Indianapolis

The wedding of Miss Norma Jean Jackson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. LaMoine Jackson of Parkway, Ind., and Emmett Smith, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Emmett Smith of Hanoverton, was solemnized at 3 p.m. last Sunday in the Woodruff Place Baptist church, Indianapolis. Rev. L. C. Trent officiated.

A program of nuptial music was played by Miss Sarah Kitterman of Daleville, Ind. Vocal selections were offered by Mrs. Merlin Painter of Daleville, aunt of the bride.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, was costumed in a candlelight setting gown. It was fashioned with a fitted bodice, long sleeves and sweetheart neckline. The long full skirt ended in a chapel train. She wore a two-tiered veil of illusion, which fell from a tiara of orange blossoms. She carried a white Bible, topped with a white orchid.

Miss Clarice Townsend, maid of honor, wore a peach taffeta frock and carried an arm bouquet of Talisman roses with blue streamers.

The bridesmaids, Misses Patricia Johnston and Diana Reiffels, wore blue net and taffeta dresses and carried colonial bouquets of sweet-peas.

Donald Smith of Hanoverton served his brother as best man.

The ushers were Eugene Smith of Hanoverton, brother of the groom, and Alfred Jackson of Daleville, uncle of the bride.

A reception was held at the bride's home.

The couple took a honeymoon trip to Kentucky. For traveling the bride wore a light blue gabardine suit with black accessories.

Among those who attended the wedding were Mrs. Donald Smith and children; Mrs. Jewell Hall, Mrs. Forrest Smith and Mrs. Emmett Smith, Sr., and daughters, Dorothy, Violet and Betty Ann, of near Hanoverton.

Down On Farm

Notes of Interest
To Rural Folk

Veterans and farm operators interested in the on-the-job farm training in Columbiana county should contact the office of the county agricultural extension agent, county superintendent of schools, or the county veterans service officer.

To date, applications for approval for training have been given some 50 veterans and 44 farm operators. Many of these applications have been completed and are in the process of being approved.

Applications for the approval of farms as places of training are passed upon by the Veterans administration agricultural training committee and then forwarded to the State Department of Education for final approval. This committee made up of representatives of agricultural agencies and farmers is also in charge of organizing and coordinating the related training part of the program.

Related Training

In order to receive a subsistence allowance each veteran in training must get a minimum of 200 hours of related training plus 50 hours of supervision on the farm per year.

This related training is under the supervision of an agricultural instructor and will be in the form of classroom and laboratory work along the lines which the veteran's type of farming operation indicates.

An instructor has been hired by the Lisbon school, the first school in the state to initiate such a program. Other schools in the country are considering such a move. As soon as final approval of farms as places of training are received from the State Department of Education, the instructor will begin work.

Farm men and women interested in home freezing units are invited to attend a meeting to be held in the Lisbon High school at 8 p.m. Wednesday.

I. P. Blauer of the Department of Agricultural Engineering, Ohio State university, who has made a study of frozen food storages and freezing units will lead the discussion and will point out the factors which make for satisfactory performance in various types of equipment.

Persons who are having trouble with their pressure canners or who need to have the gauges checked are invited to bring their canners to the clinic to be held at the Lisbon village hall Thursday, April 25, from 9:30 a.m. to 4 p.m., providing, however, that previous arrangements have been made as to the hour it will be brought.

Only a limited number can be handled that day and registration prior to April 20 is essential. I. P. Blauer will assist Miss Erma Ramseyer, home demonstration agent, in conducting the clinic.

Censorship In Iran

BY D. HAROLD OLIVER
WASHINGTON, April 19—Newspaper executives voiced protests against news censorship anywhere and Iran in particular as the American Society of Newspaper Editors convened today for a three-day meeting.

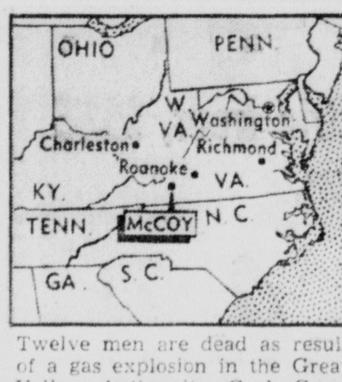

Wilbur Forrest, assistant editor of the New York Herald Tribune and chairman of the ASNE committee on world freedom of information, told a reporter he would condemn the society to go on record as condemning the strict censorship imposed by Iran.

"This is one of the negatives of press freedom," Forrest said. "When it is announced openly that such censorship will be practiced it is time something is done. The United Nations certainly have a problem to solve."

Forrest's comments coincided with a report by John S. Knight, ASNE president, urging the society to continue its fight for "freedom of communications everywhere."

Reviewing the organization's efforts in the last two years to achieve worldwide news freedom, the publisher of the Knight newspapers told the 23rd annual meeting that the goal of American editors is "the right of reporters to file uncensored dispatches from any part of the world."

An average of 2740 passenger cars dropped out of service each day during the past four years. Retirement total for the four years is about 4,000,000 cars.

German Gold Untouched In World Bank

By FLORA LEWIS

BASLE, Switzerland — A large sum of German money which the Allies have so far been unable to touch is on deposit in the Bank of International Settlements in Basle.

The bank's general secretary, Raffaele Piatto, refuses to say how much German gold and assets the bank now holds and Allied diplomats said they haven't yet been able to find out.

However, figures published in the bank's annual report indicate that it has as a very minimum $50,000,000 belonging to Germany and probably considerably more in account which the report does not specify according to countries.

Precarious Position

The bank holds a special, though somewhat precarious international position, under the 1930 Hague agreement which set it up to facilitate World War I reparations payments. It is immune from freezing regulations and outside officials interpret its charter as exempting it from being liable to confiscation of funds for reparations in the new peace settlement.

Japan was an active member of the bank. The First National Bank of New York City is the American member.

Allied diplomats say the bank will have to be dissolved eventually because its functions are in a large part duplicated by the new Bretton Woods fund. They predict a tough international wrangle when liquidation begins.

At the last counting, the bank's gold holdings alone were about $31,700,000.

Its president, during the war, was Thomas H. McKittrick, an American, but the most influential of its directors was Walther Funk, Nazi finance minister on trial at Nuremberg. Funk was able to vote the shares of Austria, Danzig and other occupied lands.

Apparently these shares as well as the accounts of Latvia, Lithuania and Estonia have been sitting untouched. Russia was not a member, and it remains to be seen whether the Soviet Union will claim the assets of the Baltic States.

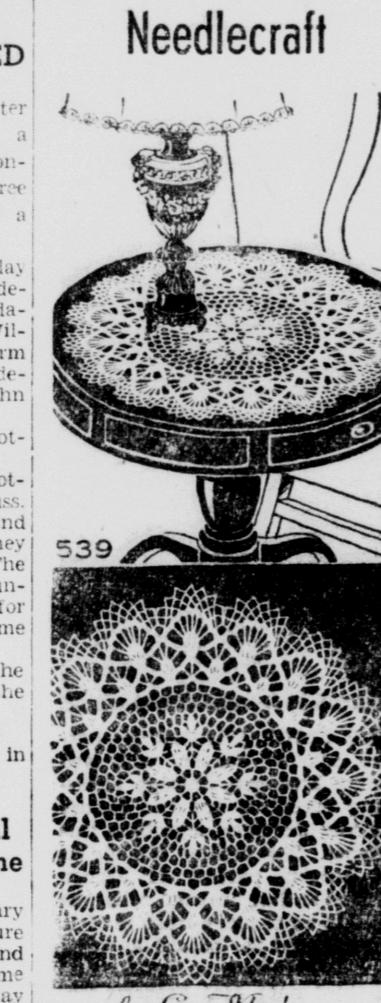

Says OSYD Ban Unfair

COLUMBUS, April 19—An official of the Ohio State Youth for Democracy says she believes the ban on the organization at Ohio State University is unjustified. "We want to go on," asserted Miss Lenora Tracht of Cleveland, the unit's secretary.

The school has refused the organization recognition on the grounds of an investigating committee's report that "the Communist party looks upon the OSYD group as part of its organization."

City Treasurer Quits

"OLD GUARD" SET FOR BERLIN DUTY

BERLIN, April 19.—The "Old Guard" regiment of the United States army is taking over the job of policing Berlin soon.

Somewhat reduced from its wartime complement but still a tough, mobile outfit, the Third infantry regiment has been assigned to the occupation duties being relinquished by the 78th division.

The regiment, which claims to be the oldest in the army's history, came from Ludwigsburg. The men now are being trained in occupation work. Col. Herbert J. Vander Heide of Washington, D. C., the commander, expects to be ready for handling prisoners of war.

Twenty-seven battle streamers have gone to the third since it was organized under a Continental congress resolution in 1784. Then it was known as the Pennsylvania regiment of infantry. It got the designation as the "Third" in 1815.

The Third was on hand when Lee surrendered at Appomattox.

Discusses Commerce

What the department has to offer to manufacturers was discussed by F. L. Roberts of Cleveland, regional manager of the Department of Commerce, in a talk at the dinner meeting of the Manufacturers association last evening in the Lape house.

Roberts, who spoke on "Domestic and Foreign Trade—Services to Manufacturers," was presented by W. F. Deming, association secretary.

Discussion of the new city hall project was opened by President J. B. Martin.

Patrol Arrests Two

Fines issued in district court as a result of state highway patrol arrests today include:

Gale Zink, 34, of East Liverpool, $5 and costs for operating a car with insufficient lights. Fined in the East Liverpool municipal court.

George D. Schwarm, 51, of Donora, Pa., $5 and costs for passing a stopped school bus. Fined by Justice of the Peace Felix P. Butch of Lisbon.

Kent Supervisor To Talk

Miss Susanna Koehler, supervisor of teachers training at Kent State university, will speak on "New Trends in Education" at a meeting of the McKinley school Parent-Teacher association at 7:30 p.m. Monday at the school building.

The nominating committee will give a report. Members of other Parent-Teacher associations are invited to attend.

Paralysis Victim Improves

James Groves, seven-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Chalmers Groves, Spring st., who has been stricken with infantile paralysis at St. Elizabeth hospital, Youngstown, was brought home today to spend 10 days.

When the Salem boy was taken to the hospital seven months ago he was completely paralyzed. He is now able to feed himself.

Trinity Service Tonight

Good Friday services will be held at 7:30 tonight at Holy Trinity Lutheran church, with the topic "The Title on the Cross." The public confession will be observed and there will be a celebration of the sacrament of Holy Communion.

The church choir will furnish special music.

Schedule Baseball Practice

A 2 p.m. Saturday practice of the Society Leul baseball team has been scheduled on the Prospect Street school diamond. Those interested in trying out for the team are urged to be present.

Club Enjoys Hike

Members of the Keen Teens club hiked to the home of Irene Weeks on the Georgetown rd. Wednesday and enjoyed a breakfast. A baseball game added interest to the event.

U. S. Recognizes Tito

WASHINGTON, April 19 — The United States has agreed to full diplomatic recognition of the Tito government of Yugoslavia, the State department announced today.

The announcement was made after assurances had been received from Yugoslavia that it accepts existing treaties between the two countries.

'Wrong' Again?

Douglas (Wrong Way) Corrigan, who electrified the world in July, 1938, when he made a forbidden flight—"by mistake"—from New York to Dublin, Eire, in a dilapidated and obsolete plane, has filed his name for the U. S. Senate. He announced at his Los Angeles home that he would run on the Prohibition ticket in this fall's elections.

Nest Burns, Damage $2,400 YOUNGSTOWN April 19—Fire in a bird's nest spread to a home and caused an estimated damage of $2,400 yesterday. One roomer was rescued from a second story room. Firemen said a spark touched off the nest.

SHE SWALLOWS A PENCIL

WINIFRED COOPER, 21-year-old Oakland, Cal., girl, is on a strict diet today—and for a good reason. She swallowed a pencil more than four inches long, complete with eraser. Holding the pencil in her mouth, Miss Cooper explains, she gulped and down it went. Doctors have placed her on the diet in hope they can avoid an operation to remove the pencil, which is now located in the girl's stomach, as shown at the left in an x-ray photo. Miss Cooper is shown, right, holding a pencil similar to the one she "ate." (International)

She'll Wed No. 4

IRENE CASTLE MC LAUGHLIN, one-time famous dancer, will wed George Enzinger, Chicago advertising executive and her former business manager, sometime this summer. She became famous as the dancing partner of Vernon Castle, her first husband, who was killed in an airplane crash in 1918. She divorced her second husband, Capt. Robert Treman in 1923, and her third mate, Maj. Frederic McLaughlin, Chicago coffee manufacturer, died in 1944. It was during her third marriage that she founded the Orphans of the Storm, a widely known sanctuary for homeless animals, at Deerfield, Ill. (International)

He added, however, that when commission members visited Japan in January, the Japanese were not short of food—"indeed, they were fat"—and he said the occupation authorities had told them the Japanese were actually eating more food than before the war.

Urge Rejection of Plan

Sir Carl concluded by saying that if any preference were to be shown to Japan "or to any other Axis power" in the present food crisis, he would take no part in such a policy and he thought the commission as a whole should reject it also.

American officials expressed doubt the food matter is within the scope of the commission. In any case, they said, the total amount shipped to Tokyo would be only about half of a "top figure" requested by MacArthur.

These officials, who asked anonymity, emphasized that no food priority is being given to Japan and that the food is being shipped only to prevent unrest and possible danger to American occupation forces from outbreaks of violence.

Senator Taft (R-OHio), a leading senatorial critic of OPA, disputed the statement of Chester Bowles economic stabilizer, that the house measure is a start on "a joyride toward economic disaster."

Taft told reporters he sees nothing particularly wrong with the house version except that he thinks subsidies now holding down real prices should be tapered off rather than eliminated.

Also, he said, manufacturers ought to get a profit on everything they manufacture, but he doubts the wisdom of guaranteeing a distributor a profit on every item he handles. As an example, he said a grocer should have an overall profit.

SPECIAL DIET IMPROVES HEALTH, LENGTHENS LIFE OF DIABETICS

By HOWARD W. BLAKESLEE
Associated Press Science Editor

NEW YORK—Fifteen years use of a diet that improves the health and lengthens the life of diabetics was reported to the Kings County Medical association here by Dr. I. M. Rabinowitch, associate professor of medicine at McGill university, Montreal.

The results are based on treatment of about 5,000 persons. The diet furnishes meals with virtually the amount of sweets and starches in an ordinary person's intake instead of cutting them way down.

In most diabetic diets the sweets are reduced and fats substituted. Dr. Rabinowitch said that his experience indicates that fats are bad for diabetics.

The secret of success of this diet is in keeping the calories down to enough to maintain a person's best weight. This averages 2,500 to 2,500 calories daily, and occasionally goes higher.

Dr. Rabinowitch said that most people habitually eat more calories than they need. His diet gives three regular meals, with three in-between meals, each of the latter containing a small amount of starch equaling one slice of bread.

Advantages Shown

He reported that the patients who have taken the diet consistently show several advantages, after some years, over those taking most other diabetic diets.

One advantage is that about 75 per cent of such people do not require insulin. With all diets there always are some persons who do not need insulin. But with the other diets he said 50 to 60 per cent generally take this remedy.

Another advantage Dr. Rabinowitch said is that among those on his high carbohydrate diet who must take insulin, the average dose is lower than in other diets.

A third advantage is less hardening of the arteries. He reported that with rare exceptions no one, regardless of age, in the past escaped hardening of arteries after having diabetes for five years or more. This applies to children, too.

Tonight he reported for the first time on diabetics who have had the disease for 15 years or more using his diet. He said that 38 per cent still were shown to be free from arterial hardening. He had reported previously on five and ten year patients, all with a marked reduction in hardening of arteries.

Lives Lengthened

Dr. Rabinowitch said he believed that with rigid following of a good diet and use of insulin where necessary the lives of diabetics can be lengthened materially. At present statistics show that on the average diabetics live 15 to 20 years shorter than the average.

He warned against a great dan-

Radio Device Prints 4-Page Newspaper

(By Associated Press)

NEW YORK, April 19.—A radio facsimile machine that prints a four-column newspaper at the rate of 500 words a minute was demonstrated yesterday at the laboratories of Radio Inventions, Inc., a research group engaged in an experimental project sponsored by 20 newspapers and radio stations throughout the nation.

News, photographs, maps, charts and cartoons were reproduced during the demonstration by means of signals from an FM type of radio broadcasting station.

The machine—just a little larger than a portable typewriter—can be used as an attachment or in combination with an FM home receiver.

The device turns out printed pages measuring 9½ by 12 inches at the rate of 28 square inches per minute.

FM radio station WBAM was used in yesterday's demonstration. Copy at the station, mounted on a cylindrical drum, was scanned by an electric eye and broadcast.

At the receiver in the laboratory, many city blocks away, the copy was reproduced by passing an electric signal through chemically treated electro-sensitive white paper.

C. E. GROUPS PLAN COLUMBIANA RALLY

Rev. Harvey C. Hahn, pastor of the Otterbein United Brethren church of Dayton, will be the speaker at a meeting of district Christian Endeavor groups at 8 p. m. Monday, April 2, in the Grace Evangelical and Reformed Church, Columbian.

This is one of a series of meetings being held in churches throughout the state.

Group singing, with Mrs. Pauline Roush as leader, features each meeting. Miss Sara Margaret Turk is accompanist.

Rev. Clair E. Beatty, executive secretary of the Ohio Christian Endeavor union, will tell of the Endeavor program in Ohio.

CASSINO, Italy.—The road back to war is strange and new.

All the ingredients of battle are missing except the ruins. Only by such odd and haphazard monuments—a few roadside graves, an occasional rusted tank, some small forgotten stacks of ammunition—can you read the story of the siege of Cassino.

These small memorabilia of battle can only hint at the long heartache and dull misery this mountain village symbolized for thousands of Allied soldiers in the early months of 1944.

Nature which heals or kills, has taken care of the rest. The road to Cassino was once a dreary trail of mud and blood and weary tears. It was tedious as a dull football game in which no one scored. Lives were lost for years. It was the endless agony and crash of sound and it broke men's hearts and minds and bodies.

It was rain and damp wind and crippling cold for bleak weeks.

It wasn't hell, because hell is heated. It wasn't life, because life has moments of rest. And it wasn't death because you still could move—any direction but forward.

It wasn't anything but Cassino—and Cassino was life and death and hell in one bitter draught.

Riding back along that road today we feel like some doomed ghost foreordained to revisit scenes of ancient disaster and you live again that old agony which still stirs many veterans in fruitful dreams of that vanished frustration, that hill of heartache—Cassino.

Cassino was only one major sign post on the road to Rome. It was preceded by several miniature Cassinos. Among them was the "million dollar hill," so named by combat troops who figured it took that much costly artillery fire to soften its defenses for the doughboy attack.

In those days it was a bare rock-bound slope. Now, like other way stops on the road of hate that led to the Italian capital, its forbidding features are veiled by early verdure. Sheep graze where once America and German troops played deadly hide and seek.

Drought has all but dried the narrow Rapido river, turbulent prelude to the wrestle for Cassino where 3,000 American casualties were suffered in one of the costliest battles of the war.

Cassino, sacked or destroyed more than once before in its long history, is rising anew from its gray rubble. It is flanked by British and Polish graveyards. Americans who died there are buried farther away.

Italian civilians are busy erecting new stone homes on sites where their fathers dwelt before them.

The noise and the armies are gone and only the hills remain.

Vets Comprise Half of Kent State Enrollment

KENT, April 19.—Less than a year ago, Kent State University was virtually a girl's school, but today the 1,116 veterans registered for the spring quarter comprise more than one-half the total enrollment.

Of this figure, 654 men and women are new at Kent State this term, while 462 have re-enrolled. Only 70 persons are under Public Law 16, with the remainder studying under provisions of the G. I. Bill.

Business administration and liberal arts colleges report enrollments of 441 veterans each. The education college has 233 vets.

Fifteen former servicemen are registered at Kent State.

CASSINO, Italy.—The road back to war is strange and new.

All the ingredients of battle are missing except the ruins. Only by such odd and haphazard monuments—a few roadside graves, an occasional rusted tank, some small forgotten stacks of ammunition—can you read the story of the siege of Cassino.

These small memorabilia of battle can only hint at the long heartache and dull misery this mountain village symbolized for thousands of Allied soldiers in the early months of 1944.

Nature which heals or kills, has taken care of the rest. The road to Cassino was once a dreary trail of mud and blood and weary tears. It was tedious as a dull football game in which no one scored. Lives were lost for years. It was the endless agony and crash of sound and it broke men's hearts and minds and bodies.

TALE OF SHIRTS: CLEVER THIS CHINESE

GOLDSBORO, N. C.—Sam Lee, Goldsboro's Chinese laundryman, solved the problem of white shirts for Capt. Ralph Jones.

Just before he left for service four and a half years ago, Jones left a bundle of shirts with Sam. Back from service, Jones called for his shirts, explaining he had lost the ticket.

"That's all right," said Sam. Immediately he pulled out a dusty package and delivered the laundry.

SOME RAISINS WHY RATIO WENT WRONG

OK INVESTIGATION OF ALLEGED SPIES

WASHINGTON, April 19.—The house instructed its judiciary committee today to investigate the disposition of cases involving six persons in the alleged wartime theft of secret documents from the state, war and navy departments.

The 228 to 11 roll call vote came after Rep. Rankin (D-Miss.) told the house the committee had learned that "the spy ring Canada is investigating is working in the United States, trying to learn the secret of the atomic bomb."

Three of the six arrested last June were not indicted.

"A thorough investigation of all the circumstances with respect to the disposition of the charges of espionage and the possession of documents stolen from secret government files which were made by the federal bureau of investigation against the following individuals:

"Philip J. Jaffe, Kate L. Mitchell, John Stewart Service, Emmanuel Sisnard Larson, Andrew Roth and Mark Gayne."

Three of the six arrested last June were not indicted.

Salem Quakers Whip Louisville In Track, 70-48, Yesterday; City Tire Defeats Scienceville To Gain Youngstown Finals

Cope's Charges Triumph In Nine Of 14 Events To Score Second Win Of '46

Coach Fred Cope's Salem High Quakers yesterday afternoon chalked up Victory No. 2 for the 1946 track season with a 70-48 win over the Louisville Raiders at Louisville.

Continuing a brand of improvement which promises to rank them among the best in district track society, Cope's charges now boast wins over Louisville and Youngstown in the first two dual meets.

The Quakers racked up first in nine of the 14 events and posted improved times, heights and distances in most of the events.

Most marked improvement of the day was John Stoita's 16 second high hurdle first. The lanky senior posted a 16.6 seconds mark here against Rayen last week to capture first.

Glen Thorne again took first place in the mile, with Dick Tolson winning second and Bush capturing third for a clean sweep in that event. Thorne's time of four minutes 54 seconds was six 10ths of a second better than his first place in the Rayen meet.

Dick Theiss jumped his best of the season so far by capturing first in the broad jump with a leap of 19 feet 2 1/2 inches.

Bill Ward, Senior ace, was high again with an 11 point total. He won first in the 220 yard dash and seconds in the 100 and the low hurdles.

Bob Pager's throw of 124 feet, one inch, was best in the discuss, but fell short of his 127 feet 5 1/2 inch heave here against Rayen.

With two victories under their belts, Cope's charges face probably their stiffest dual competition of the season in Coach Lowell "Rib" Allen's Boardman Spartans here Tuesday afternoon at Reilly field.

The Spartans are as yet undefeated and have a slate of excellent times, distances and heights, which figure to make things tough for Salem.

From early indications, it will take a host of second and third places to out-point Boardman's numerous almost sure first places. The results yesterday:

100 YARD DASH—Loring, Louisville, won; Ward, Salem, 2nd; Boyle, Louisville, 3rd. Time: 10.3.

HIGH HURDLES—Stoita, Salem, won; Raber, Louisville, 2nd; Hudelson, Salem, 3rd. Time: 16 seconds.

SHOT PUT—Loury, Louisville, won; Stark, Louisville, 2nd; Cain, Salem, 3rd. Distance: 42 feet.

POLE VAULT—Kelley and Ressler, Salem, tied for 1st; Jensen, Salem, 3rd. Height: 10 feet.

HIGH JUMP—Boone, Salem, won; Raber and Ritchie, Louisville tied for 2nd. Height: 5 feet 7 inches.

MILE RUN—Thorne, Salem, won; Tolson, Salem, 2nd; Bush, Salem, 3rd. Time: 4 minutes 54 seconds.

HALF MILE RELAY—Salem won; Smith, Copcock, Boone, Gottschling. Time: 1 minute 41.5 seconds.

Salem Quakers Whip Louisville In Track, 70-48, Yesterday; City Tire Defeats Scienceville To Gain Youngstown Finals

Cope's Charges Triumph In Nine Of 14 Events To Score Second Win Of '46

Coach Fred Cope's Salem High Quakers yesterday afternoon chalked up Victory No. 2 for the 1946 track season with a 70-48 win over the Louisville Raiders at Louisville.

Continuing a brand of improvement which promises to rank them among the best in district track society, Cope's charges now boast wins over Louisville and Youngstown Rayen.

The Quakers racked up first nine of the 14 events and posted improved times, heights and distances in most of the events.

Most marked improvement of the day was John Stoltz's 16 second high hurdle first. The lanky Senior posted a 16.6 seconds mark here against Rayen last week to capture first.

Glen Thorne again took first place in the mile, with Dick Tolson winning second and Bush capturing third for a clean sweep in that event. Thorne's time of four minutes 54 seconds was six tenths of a second better than his first place in the Rayen meet.

Dick Thelis jumped his best of the season so far by capturing first in the broad jump with a leap of 19 feet 2½ inches.

Bill Ward, Senior ace, was high again with an 11 point total. He won first in the 220 yard dash and seconds in the 100 and the low hurdles.

Bob Pager's throw of 124 feet, one inch, was best in the discuss, but fell short of his 127 feet 5½ inch heave here against Rayen.

With two victories under their belts, Cope's charges face probably their stiffest dual competition of the season in Coach Lowell "Rib" Allen's Boardman Spartans here Tuesday afternoon at Reilly Field.

The Spartans are as yet undefeated and have a slate of excellent times, distances and heights, which figure to make things tough for Salem.

From early indications, it will take a host of second and third places to out-point Boardman's numerous almost sure first places.

The results yesterday:

100 YARD DASH—Gulling, Louisville, won; Ward, Salem, 2nd; Boyle, Louisville, 3rd. Time: 10.3.

HIGH HURDLES—Stota, Salem, won; Raber, Louisville, 2nd; Hudspeth, Salem, 3rd. Time: 16 seconds.

SHOT PUT—Loury, Louisville, won; Stark, Louisville, 2nd; Cain, Salem, 3rd. Distance: 42 feet.

POLE VAULT—Kelley and Roessler, Salem, tied for 1st; Jensen, Salem, 3rd. Height: 10 feet.

HIGH JUMP—Boone, Salem, won; Raber and Ritchie, Louisville, tied for 2nd. Height: 5 feet 7 inches.

MILE RUN—Thorne, Salem, won; Tolson, Salem, 2nd; Bush, Salem, 3rd. Time: 4 minutes 54 seconds.

HALF MILE RELAY—Salem won; Smith, Coppock, Boone, Gottschling. Time: 1 minute 41.5 seconds.

440 YARD DASH—Gulling, Louisville, won; Little, Salem, 2nd; Schmucker, Louisville, 3rd. Time: 53.5 seconds.

LOW HURDLES—Raber, Louisville, won; Ward, Salem, 2nd; Stota, Salem, 3rd. Time: 28.8 seconds.

HALF MILE RUN—Little, Salem, won; Leslie, Louisville, 2nd; Thorne, Salem, 3rd. Time: 2 minutes 10.8 seconds.

220 YARD DASH—Ward, Salem, won; Schmucker, Louisville, 2nd;

Detroiter Adopts French Tots

Miss Ann Barley, who arranged to go to Europe as a correspondent because she heard it was easy to adopt a baby there, holds her 10½-month-old adopted son, Patrick, upon their arrival at Washington, D. C. The former Detroit woman ran into difficulties, but arranged for custody of Patrick through a French adoption society. She said a younger baby girl will be brought to America for her when the child is a little older.
